

MODERN DEVICE MANAGEMENT SERVICE

Centralise management of your end-user devices.

Our Modern Device Management Service offers centralised control of your end-user devices including Windows 10/11, Android, iOS, and macOS.

The level of management we provide varies between operating systems and device ownership status based on the supported features for each scenario within Intune and Defender for Endpoint*.

This service also includes mobile application management policies for Microsoft 365 mobile applications when used on unmanaged mobile devices in a business context verified by multi-factor authentication.

Modern Device Management Benefits

Consistent controls and policies across all your devices ensure you have control over your threat vectors and can report on device health and status.

Control how, where and when your business sensitive data is being accessed and used on personal mobile devices to prevent data leakage and risk to your priceless intellectual property.

Any new Windows device you issue to a user can have an automated out of the box experience to get them setup without the need for your internal IT to ever touch the device.

Modern Device Management Features

Centralise management of your end-user devices.

Modern Device Management allows you to streamline control of your devices with consistent centralised policies pushed out to each device, anywhere in the world. You can also view status reports straight from the Microsoft Endpoint Manager dashboard.

Protect your organisation's data through Mobile Application Management (MAM) policies.

Keep business data secure and compliant when accessed on mobile devices through Microsoft 365 built-in security capabilities.

Remote wipe devices securely if they are lost or stolen.

Six Degrees can trigger a rapid remote wipe of any managed Windows device or business data stored in Microsoft 365 on a mobile device if it is lost or stolen, protecting your business data from data leakage and protecting your intellectual property.

Free your IT team to focus on core business objectives.

Eliminate the need for your IT team to build and test new devices before you ship them out to your users. Six Degrees will create an out of the box experience for your users that applies your policies automatically and installs the user's required software the first time they login to a new device.
